Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

The passing of Charles K. McClatchy last week probably marks the end of a newspaper epoch in Northern California. For it is doubtful whether anyone who succeeds him as the pilot of a great newspaper, will have the same deep interest, the profound convictions, and the forceful will, regarding all matters affecting the public welfare, that the late publisher had. It is no disparagment of his successors at the Bee helm to state that such men as McClatchy are rare, whether in the newspaper business or in any other business. He was one of the few newspaper owners in the United States who never trimmed his journalistic sails to suit his advertisers. He was one of the few who dared to express his openions on any subject without regard to the sensibilities of readers or advertisers. He made many an enemy but none that did not respect him. And however much other publishers might differ with him upon matters of public interest, politically or eqonomically, they admired him for the champion he was, of the common man. Ordinarily we think that when death robs us a man or woman, who does a particularly good job of the work he sets his hand to do, that some one else will step into the vacant post and carry on as well as ever. It is not always true, especially in those posts involving a high order of intelligent leadership. Losses of this kind are often irreparable. The state of California has suffered such a loss.

It has been suggested that in view of all the unfinished work undertaken in the various WPA projects, the city government is soon to be faced with a problem of raising money to complete some of them. This may be crossing bridges before we come to them, but in any event, one of means suggested of raising money invites the attention of all law abiding citizens. It is suggested that by permitting various establishments to operate slot machines, a higher business license could be imposed and collected to be benefit of the city treasury. As has been pointed out in this column, operation of slot machines is a violation of the state laws. For this city to benefit by their operation, would in effect place the city government in partnership with those violating the law.

Inside the city those who desire to install slot machines point out that slot machines are everywhere outside the city limits and that their operation outside the city limits constitutes a discrimination in favor of resorts which have to deal only with the county authorities. In this connection it is interesting to note that one of the arguments used to defeat the last sheriff was that he permitted slot machines to operate in the county. The change of administration has made no change in this condition. In fact there are more slot machines in operation throughout the county than there were two years ago.

Peace officers are sworn to enforce all the laws. It is not legally within the discretion of any peace officer to pick and choose which laws he will enforce and which he will ignore. Yet winking at law violation goes on throughout the United States. This example of the peace officers spreads to the citizens. Many drivers of automobiles observe the traffic laws as they please. The result is a mounting death toll on the roads. The minute the bars are let down in one section of the law, violations increase in other sections.

One way to cure this condition is elect new peace officers at every opportunity, only finally a man is found ho has the will and the ability to enforce the law. Such men inducted into office without previous training, are, of course, rare. A better way, it has proved in other states, notably New York and Pennsylvania, is to create a state police or constabulary and subordinate all county and city peace officers to their jurisdiction. For nowadays a high order of trained intelligence is required to cope with the criminal element. This kind of ability can't be elected. It must be a matter of training in schools instituted for the purpose. In short, to get anywhere in curbing crime we must raise the standards in personnel, character, training and ability, of those entrusted with eneforcement of the laws.

WHISKERINOS TO ORGANIZE MAY 5 IN ARMORY HALL

The Whiskers club of Nevada City, No. 57, (different varieties), will be organized tomorrow night in Armory Hall under the auspices of two officers of Sacramento's No. 1 club. The two officers who will come to Nevada City for initiating the local noviates are A. J. Harder, High Judge, and R. N. Philpot, Scribbler. In addition to these distinguished visitors there will be a big delegation of Auburn and Roseville Whiskerinos to witness the ritual and cheer the candidates for membership.

Ted Janiss, chairman of the Whiskerinos declare that never in his experience has viewed such a grand crop of whiskers as is now sprouting along Nevada City streets. Even the barbers are wearing whiskers.

TEN DAYS IN JAIL FOR UNLICENSED ANGLER

Last Saturday Game Warden Earl Hiscox arrested Gilbert Kirhoa, native of Honolulu who claims he has been in the United States practically all his life, for fishing without a license. The game warden has been looking for the violator as he has been fishing on streams out on the Idaho Maryland company property for some time.

Kirhoa was brought before Judge W. Morehouse in Grass Valley this morning and given ten days in the county pail. He started serving time this forenoon.

BUSINESS GROUP INVESTS IN MINE, PAY DIVIDENDS

About ten years ago 25 business men of Nevada City seeking to attract companies to operating mines in this district purchased the New England group of mines paying cash for them.

At that time was appointed E. J. N. Ott, Ed C. Uren, W. H. Martin and William B. Celio as directors. Mr. Merritt E. Rector was made the president and W. E. Wright secretary-treasurer. All the directors but one, William H. Martin are alive and Mr. S. Lee Leiter has replaced Mr. Martin on the board.

About four years ago the company declared a $100 a share dividend. In the past few years it has been leased to a company for $100 per month and last Saturday the directors declared another $100 dividend per share and still have a substantial surplus left.

The original stockholders have all their money back from the original purchase of the mine which is leased to A. B. Foote of Grass Valley and associates.

CLUBWOMEN OF COLUSA VISIT GARDENS HERE

The ladies of the Colusa County Garden club, today announced that Nevada City had been selected for their annual garden tour this season. A large delegation of the Colusa club ladies arrived shortly before noon and were served a delicious luncheon in the garden of Mrs. Frank Farmer. During the luncheon, in which twenty ladies participated, Mrs. F. Fleet, president of the Colusa club told of the work which the club has accomplished in Colusa county and the program upon which they are now working.

The club arranged for landscaping the grounds of the new Maxwell women's club house and for the Boy Scout lodge in Colusa. The program the Colusa ladies have undertaken this year was deeply interesting to the Nevada City ladies.

Following the luncheon the visitors were taken on a tour of Nevada City gardens. Among they visited were the G. J. Rector, the Wade Rrmstrong and the P. G. Scadden gardens and the gardens of the Felix Gilet Nursery.

EXCAVATION STARTS FOR HI SCHOOL ANNEX

With the removal of the former band room and wood shed from the grounds of the high school, excavation was begun this morning for the construction of the addition. Last week the wrecking of the wooden structure, which had housed the Purple and Gold bandsters and served as a shelter for fuel, was completed, and all preliminary activities prior to actual excavation finished.

In addition to this, the widening of the sidewalk which runs the length of the high school grounds has been started, the side adjacent to the ends of the tennis courts having been completed.

FOREST HI TO SEND 3 STUDENTS ON TRIP TO S. F.

Underwritten by some of the leading mining men of Alleghany and Forest three students of the Forest high school have been awarded an unusual prize for good citizenship in the school. The prize is a five day trip to San Francisco, accompanied by the principal of the high school, Mrs. June Johnson, and her assistant, Mrs. Gladys Brown. None of the students who are to receive this prize have ever seen a large city or the ocean. The names of these fortunate boys and girls will be announced at a banquet to be given the donors of the fund for the trip, in Alleghany on May 14.

Those who have underwritten the trip are Walter Wilson of the Kenton mine, H. U. Maxfield of the Sixteen-to-One mine, William Scott of the Bald Mountain mining company, Harry Morgan of the South Fork mining company, and Ray Hawkins of the general merchandise store of Alleghany.

Contributors to the fund include Fred Austin, justice of the peace, Dr. Wallace Hardy, Dr. Vernon Padgett, Mrs. Jack Bowden, restaurant owner, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Myers.

MRS. KORNHAMMER'S 82 BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Mrs. H. Kornhammer, celebrated her eighty second birthday yesterday at a dinner in the hame of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hieronimus. Mrs. Kornhammer, as spry and lively as a woman twenty years younger, greatly enjoyed the reunion of the members of her family. She is the mother of Mrs. George Calanan and the grandmother of Mrs. M. T. Emlay of San Francisco, both of whom with their husbands, were among the guests. Mrs. R. J. Ronchi of Folsom, and her husband, of Folsom were there. Mrs. Ronchi, formerly Miss Hieronimus of this city, is a niece of Mrs. Kornhammer.

FIREMEN PAY OFF MORTGAGE ON ARMORY HALL

At the last delegation meeting of firemen a few days ago, it was shown the Nevada City firemen had liquidated the whole debt on Armory Hall located on upper Broad street, in this city.

Through three former fire chiefs, E. J. N. Ott, Louie Kopp and James Penrose, the firemen advocated the purchase of Armory Hall and the big mortgage on the hall was assumed, it formerly being the property of the Red Men. This debt, including mortgage and other costs, amounted to about $5,000.

Mr. Ott stated it is only a question of time until the firemen add to and make a number of improvements.

This large building is now a monument to the hard work of the firemen not only in rendering such splendid service in extinguishing fires, but is evidence of their public spirit toward city betterment.

NEW EVIDENCE ON PARALYSIS SERUM

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The serum treatment in infantile paralysis should not be discarded without further investigation, despite the fact that many medical men have cast doubts on its value, Dr. Karl F. Meyer, director of the Hooper Foundation of Medical Research, states in an article appearing in the current issue of California and Western Medicine.

That the use of serum in the treatment of this disease is not an entirely useless procedure is indicated by the data collected from approximately 4,500 cases during the 1934 outbreak in Denmark. A commission was appointed in November, 1934 to collect this data and issue a report on all salient features.

This commission recommends as early admission to the hospital as possible and a residence in the hospital of at least three weeks. Then prompt serum treatment in the hospital, with an average dose of one cubic centimeter per kilogram bodyweight. It is emphasized that repetition of an injection—if necessary, a larger dose—is imperative on the slightest sign of progress of the disease.

The data suggests that the serum treatment played a significant part in preventing paralysis, but no final conclusions can be drawn as to its efficacy, the article stated.

During the last week Knute Heen was arrested in Schreibers Cafe in Nevada City for disturbing the peace by Chief of Police Garfield Robson. Heen was brought before Judge W. L. Mobley this morning and pleading guilty was fined $25.

My Friend, Ott

Have you ever seen Ott in his old battered hat
Start crushing his samples of this and of that,
There's ores, and there's cons, and a bullion or two;
He knows how to assay—his father did too.

Have you ever seen Ott in his old overalls
Light up the big furnace encased in brick walls,
It melts thirty samples in one single heat,
And all assayers say, it works very neat.

Have you ever seen Ott start rubbing his nose
With that dirty old towel that every one knows
Would shatter to bits if it fell on the floor
From its place on the nail on the back of the door.

Have you ever seen Ott start brushing with vim
The dust that collects on the old furnace rim,
He's brushed it so often, and now it's so old,
It looks as if made of real old burnished gold.

But if you've a prospect, or if you've a mine,
Take your samples to Ott, and if he has time
Your results you will get the same day I am sure,
And the work's guaranteed, although you may get sore.

For we all think our samples are richer a lot
Than the assay we get from that great craftsman, Ott,
But when he gives you figures, of this you are sure,
Your samples ran that, just that, and no more.

SANTA CLARA WARRANT SERVED IN GRASS VALLEY

Joe de Maggio was arrested Saturday evening in Grass Valley by Deputy Sheriff William Woods, on a bench warrant issued in Santa Clara county. Local officers had been notified and had been on the lookout for de Maggio. Saturday evening Deputy Sheriff Woods, while standing on a street corner in Grass Valley and who also had his picture, and description of the car, saw de Maggio drive up and park across the street.

The alleged law breaker had jumped a $2,000 bond and is now in the Nevada county jail, awaiting word from Santa Clara peace officers.

RARE VOLUMNE ON ASTRONOMY FOR HI LIBRARY

Principal H. E. Kjorlie of the Nevada City high school was the recipient of a letter recently from Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California, concerning the addition to the local high school library of a copy of the Keeler Memorial Volume, designated as Volume VIII of the Lick Observatory publications. The description of the book, as given by President Sproul, follows:

"The books, which was made possible by the generous contribution of a number of sponsors, is said to be one of the most impressive among the many publications of the observatory, which have now reached reached their eighteenth volume. It is a collection of hand pressed prints from heleogravure plates of the nebulae and clusters made from photographs taken by Professor Keeler with the Crossley reflector. The plates are of rare beauty and would be appealing to anyone of fine sensibilities, irrespective of a technical knowledge of astronomy."

Through the courtesy of Dr. W. H. Wright, Director of the Lick Observatory, and President Sproul, the high school library will be enriched with a copy of this valuable book. Principal Kjorlie sent an immediate reply expressing gratitude and accepting this offer. The book will arrive this week, and may be seen by anyone who is interested at the high school.

AIR CONDITIONING MENTAL QUIRKS, CONCLAVE THEME

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Ability of a child to read a chart with ease does not mean that glasses are unnecessary. Air conditioning may eventually be of as much importance in the treatment of asthma and hay fever as it is in keeping Pullman passengers good natured. If you are afraid of a crowd or shun walking uner a ladder, an examination of your family background may be necessary to determine if you are suffering from some psychosis or other.

These and other facts in the field of mental and uhysical health are to be explained by University of California dectors at the sixty-fifth annual session of the California Medical Association at Coronado, May 25 to 28. Twenty five members of the staff of the University's medical school are to give papers, and a number of others will partipate in the attendant discussion.

The departments of general medicine, surgery, psychoatry, pediatrics, urology, radiology, obstetrics, anatomy, pathology and bacteriology will be fully represented Some of the topics include good manners and medicine, trends in the mental behavior of children, radiology in the treatment of brain tumors and the very latest developments in industrial surgery and medicine. An entire section of the convention will be given over to cancer, during which the present cancer situation in California will be reviewed by University technicians.

The meeting is expected to reveal new developments in many procedures and experiments achieved during the year.

FISHERMEN ON SUNDAY THRONG SIERRA STREAMS

Hundreds of fishermen thronged the streams and lakes of the high Sierras yesterday. Many brought home limits of trout while many others were not so successful. A. H. Willard, captain of the fish and game commission, spent the first and second days of the season on the Trukee river. He stated many fine fish were caught with grubs and several weight limits were brought in May first. The rain during the week end raised the river and made poor fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Richards and Mr. and Mrs. John Tognarelli composed a party that fished on Lake Spaulding, Sunday. Messrs. Richards and Tognarelli and Mrs. Tognarelli caught limits of fine trout. Mrs. Richards also caught some nice fish.

A fishing party composed of Russell B. Farley of Nevada City and Roy Terrill of Grass Valley caught limits of fish on the Truckee river Sunday. Mr. Farley stated the fishermen where he caught his fish took home many fine trout.

Jack Shebley, of this city, was one of a group that fished in the Scott Flat section on Deer Creek Sunday. John Mlnarich and Mr. Bankus fished on Deer Creek above Scotts Flat dam and on the South Yuba river at Washington. They brought home good catches.

Gene Barberi and Lou Elkus, local sportsmen, bronght home messes of trout. Mr. Joe Wilhoite of the Safeway stores, enjoyed a fishing trip into the mountains.

A group composed of Earl Fitzpatrick, Bill Mullis, Roman Rozynski, John Harding, fished on Deer Creek above Scotts Flat dam. Howard Penrose, Ray Arbogast and Herbert Skeahan, fished in the Washington country Sunday.

Jack Curnow, John Sbaffi and Jack Hernden spent Sunday on a fishing trip on the Truckee river. A "Hopper" Eddy, who fished with a party at Fuller lake caught a 17 1-2 inch trout that weighed one and three quarter qounds. It as one of the largest brought in since the opening day. Earl Chatfield caught a 14 inch trout in one of the local streams on the opening day.

Delbert Schiffner caught the limit of fine trout, and his brother, Robert, also cought several fine fish in streams in Bear Valley Sunday.

So far as ascertained Mrs. Edith Thompkins of Grass Valley caught the largest trout. She brought in a 5 3-4 brown trout from Lake Spualding last Saturday.

NOR. SAN JUAN PREPARING BIG CHERRY FETE

The North San Juan Ridge Improvement League is making elaborate preparations for the Cherry Carnival and Festival, dates for which have been set for June 13 and 14. They have enlisted the support of the Nevada City Whiskerinos and will co-operate with Nevada City one hundred per cent in its Fourth of July celebration.

The cherry carnival of North San Juan has been the big event for many a year, running back to the time when it was first discovered that cherries could be successfully grown there.

There will be many concessions, programs of games, dancing afternoons and evening, and door prizes galore at this year's carnival in June.

HI CONCERT TO BE GIVEN IN PARK

It was announced today by L. E. Sweeney, music director of the Nevada City high school that the annual band and orchestra concerts will be given this year on May 15 at Seaman's lodge in Pioneers' Park.

The porch of the lodge was specially designed to provide a sounding board or shell for musical events. Benches will be provided for the audience in the parking ground and also space for parking.

May The Best Man Win!

(Contributed)

Tomorrow is the big day. The vote is on, and may the best man win!

Of course it is only a primary election, and what it actually decides will not be exceptionally important, perhaps. When it's all over we won't know who the president is going to be for the next four years. We won't even know any more than we do now about the relative strength of Democratic and Republican parties in the states, since we already have that information in registration figures.

Nor will the result change the inevitability of pledging Democrats of California to the president, whichever of the three delegations wins approval. Republicans, of course, can go for Landon or for the uninstructed delegation, but either choice will probably not make very much difference at the Cleveland convention, where a long wrangle is almost sure to ensue.

Nevertheless there will be a "feel" of importance and excitement about the voting Tuesday. After all, this is a preliminary shot in a nation's presidential battle, one of the most absorbing dramas in the whole range of human affairs.

Few will want to miss out on this. And too, in a democracy, it is not a good idea to get into the habit of not voting. Every registered voter should cast his or her ballot tomorrow.

When Trucks Crash

(Contributed)

The sound and fury of that ghastly head-on crash of two trucks on Golden State highway six miles south of Tulare the other day must have echoed in the bones of every man who read of it.

Traffic was blocked for five hours. It was four hours before the blazing wreckage cooled sufficiently to permit extracting three charred bodies. One of the dead left a widow and several children.

No one could identify the skeletons. The heads had been burned off all three.

Oil and grease and paper products in the heavily laden northbound truck had exploded. This truck was thought to have veered to the wrong side of the road, crashing into the other.

It was only coincidence that blazing death was not poured on a whole family out for a drive, or perhaps on a school bus loaded with children.

The state has been asked to speed up action to reduce the menace of big vehicles on the highays. But it never has been asked so eloquently as this.

BANKER STATES DEPOSITS SAFEST IN U. S. HISTORY

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Bank depositors of the United States today are in the safest position they have ever occupied in the history of the nation.

This was the statement made by A. P. Giannini, chairman of the board of Bank of America, fourth largest bank of the United States, in a nation wide radio address from Washington, D. C.

Giannini attributed the excellent condition of the nation's banks to constructive legislation placed in effect as a part of the policies of the Roosevelt administration.

The California banker enumerated the effective legislative steps that have been undertaken since the crisis of 1933, to protect the depositors and stockholders of American banks.

Giannini pointed out the salutary effect of RFC investment in banks; the stabilizing influence of Federal Deposit Insurance effective regulation of bank credit and the divorcement of investment and commercial banking.

"No one will deny that the major features of the policies to which reference has been made are truly constructive," Giannini said, "and that our financial structure rests on a sound basis. There is more protection to the public, less hazard to the stockholders and a brighter prospect of success and prosperity than we have seen for many years. That, again, is why I am proud to be a banker. I can view the future with greater confidence because I know that the interests of the depositor are more adequately safeguarded."

BEER SHOOT AT GOLD PAN LODGE SUNDAY

Gold Pan Lodge, the popular sportsmen's resort near Camptonville, last year instituted beer shoots something after the manner of the well known turkey shoots, which proved a great success. This summer, Bill Davis, host at the lodge, expects to hold five or six beer shoots during the summer .Two targets will be used, a 65 yard and 220 yard target, consisting of a six inch plate, with a case of beer offered as a prize.

TWELVE MILLION PEOPLE ON NEW DEAL PAYROLL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—More than 12,000,000 persons in the United States are receiving all or part of their income from the New Deal government, according to a survey made by the Research Division of the Republican State Central Committee, released here today.

During the last two years 9,000,000 persons have been added to those receiving incomes of varying amounts from the New Dealers, the report discloses. This is equivalent to one sixth of the number of available workers in the nation.

The number of persons dependent upon the government today equals the total population of Maine, Idaho, Deleware, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming, Maryland, Colorado, Florida and Nebraska, the report states.

Federal statistics show that fifty per cent of the 1936 list of New Deal payments have been added since the New Dealers took over the management of the government on March 4, 1933.

A total of 3,400,000 are now on the emergency relief appropriations of WPA. PWA, FERA, REA, and nearly 400,000 more are on the CCC list. Administrative workers on the direct government payroll total 850,000.

The report adds:

"When one person out of every eleven in the nation receives all or part of his income from the federal government, an unwholesome situation is clearly indicated. This condition imposes a cruel burden on the backs of the taxpayers. It tends to create a self-perpetrating regime at Washington whose strength is derived from the subsidization, through federal funds, of a great mass of voters."

Keep Smiling

When the day is dark and the road ahead
Is haunted by shadows you fear and dread,
Press on with a song; and when storm clouds lower,
Though they threaten a deluge or presage a shower,
Keep smiling, my lad, keep smiling.

If the rain descends and the floods are wide,
If some fond hope drowns in a seaward tide,
Look up and beyond to the coming years;
Renew your courage and dry those tears;
Keep smiling my, lad, keep smiling.

The storms will pass and a fair new day
Will smile upon sunlit waves at play;
If your castles have fallen, regrets are vain;
With joy in the task, go build them again;
Keep smiling my lad, keep smiling.

It's a great old world with its ups and downs,
It's smiles and tears and forbidding frowns;
If you are loyal, your friends will be true,
And their hands will clasp yours all the journey through;
Keep smiling my lad, keep smiling.

FOREST SERVICE FILMS

CAMPTONVILLE, May 4.—The people of the community and the members of the local CCC camp were guests of the Forest Service Wednesday evening at the Masonic hall, and were entertained for an hour and a half with motion pictures.

The pictures were forest scenes, cattle grazing and other incidents in the routine of the forest service. One reel was devoted to carelessness and the results and devastation of fire. Rev. H H. Buckner of Nevada City Methodist church, kindly donated and operated his motion picture machine to put on the reels. Forest Ranger Frank W. Meggers arranged for the local exhibit. Electric wires to operate the machine were run to the hall from their electric light plant.

CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Judge Raglan Tuttle, after hearing the evidence in the case of Alpha Stones Ltd., vs. R. L. Rurr in his court Wednesday, took the case under advisement.

In the case plaintiff seeks judgment in the sum of $425.28 alleged to be due for machinery sold and delivered to the defendant.

Defendant denies receiving the machinery in question which was delivered at the mine where he was superintendent, and was allegedly stolen. W. E. Wright appeared as attorney for the plaintiff and Marshall Z. Lowell of Lowell and Lowell at Auburn was defendant's attorney.

SCOUTS HIKE TO WEEK END CAMP

Seventeen members of Troop 6, Nevada City Boy Scouts of America spent a very pleasant week end at Camp Tahoe Ukiah. The boys left Nevada City at noon Saturday and hiked up to Tahoe Ukiah camp by way of Willow Valley. They camped by patrols and each patrol was judged by the neatness and efficiency of their tents, beds, fireplaces and cooking. Eagle Patrol won the competition on all points, being the first to get their camp arranged in good order, having the best made beds, best built fireplaces and the best balanced and prepared menu for the three meals prepared in camp. Saturday evening after supper the boys had a big campfire and spent the evening with songs and stories.

The troop hiked back to Nevada City Sunday afternoon, stopping at the Ski Club to pick up a trail left by George R. Schrader, Scoutmaster, and Robert Tucker, Assistant Scoutmaster. The trail, however, proved to be too tough and the pack finally lost the track entirely and were unable to pick it up again, so that the hide-aways had to come out of the brush and give them more instructions in tracking. However, the next time the boys say they will make their credit for tracking.

The members of Troop 6 that attended this troop camporee all earned credit for a fourteen mile hike, and some of the boys earned special credits for fire building and camp cooking. They are all entitled to attend the Tahoe Area Council Camporee which will be held May 16 and 17 and will include troops from Nevada City, Grass Valley, Roseville, Penyrn, Loomis, Auburn, Rocklin and Lincoln.

There they will be judged on the same points of camping, and all patrols winning an "A" rating will be allowed to attend the state wide camporal to be held next August.

Boys attending the camporee were Everett Angove, Everett Davis, Billy Lang, Billy Muscardini, John Muscardini, Roman Rozynski, George Schrader, Bob Small, Paul Snider, Kenneth Worthley, Richard Gregory, and Joe Wiedauf. Staff members present were George R. Schrader, Scoutmaster, Robert Tucker and John R. Hodgson, Assistant Scoutmasters, Henry Toccalini, Junior Assistant, and Ray Wilde, Senior Patrol Leader.

DRIVER MENACE TO SCHOOL BUS IS FINED $15

CAMPTONVILLE, May 4.—Faithful to the trust invested in him in safely transporting the school children of this district, William A. Lang, local school bus operator, appeared in the local justice court on Thursday and swore to a complaint charging Charles T. Chambers of Sacramento, with being on the wrong side of the road and almost colliding the school bus off the highway. A warrant of arrest was issued and placed in the hands of Traffic Officer A. J. Ponta who brought the motorist into court.

Chambers expressed desire to enter his plea at once and save a trip back so he pleaded not guilty. Judge Acton M. Cleveland wished to view the scene where the violation took place, wheel tracks, eac., so he moved the court four miles up the highway where the Zerga road goes under the flume, and listened to the evidence, and after considerable discussion and demonstration of tire marks, etc., the court adjudged the defendant guilty and assessed a fine of $15. The court put stress upon the dangerous crooked highway, and the necessity of safe guarding the lives of the children who travel it twice daily to and from the school.

Mothers' Day Tea at High School Thursday.

A combination of the annual Mothers' Day Tea and Fashion Show should provide ample entertainment for mothers of local high school students when they gather next Thursday afternoon at the Nevada City high school as guests of the girls' league. Tea will be served those who attend at 3 p. m., and a fashion show sponsored by the homemaking department, will be presented. All of the garments modeled on Thursday will have been made in the homemaking classes at the high school.

Chairmen of committees which will function at this affair are as follows: Food, Fern McClure; arrangements, Cecelia Woods; clean-up, Pauline Rozynski; flowers, Edna Doolittle; invitations, Mary Lou Draper; serving, Genevieve Vranish; The invitations which were mailed out today were designed by Mary Lou Draper.

Miss Peterson, girls' league advisor, and Miss Bartholowem, head of the home economics department, will supervise the entertainment.

CAMELS OF NEW WORLD DID NOT LIKE DESERTS

BERKELEY, May 4.—While the camel of the Old World apparently enjoys crossing the hot sands and is not bothered by thirst, his pre-historic ancestors in the New World appeared to have enjoyed the cool, moist places, and does not seem to have made any reputation at all as a beast of burden. A great deal of new light is thrown on this pre-historic sojourner in a paper prepared by Joseph T. Gregory, graduate student in paleontology at the University of California which was presented at the recent meeting of the Pacific Coast Branch of the Palaeontological Society of America in Pasadena.

The genus Pliauchenia, described in the paper, is supposed to be the forerunner of the Asiatic camel of today. The genus migrated heavily to the Old World in Pliocene times, but like the pre-historic horse, he appears to have become extinct, for some unknown reason, in the New World.

Attempts were made many years ago to re-introduce the camel into the United States to carry burdens across the hot sands of some of the southwestern states. But the personal habits of the beast were found to be too objectionable for modern day American society, and the coming in of other transportation methods resulted in his undoing as a New World fixture, for the second time in his career.

Gregory's paper was based on a study of specimens of the Pliauchenia found by the University of California in Big Springs Canyon, near the town of Martin, South Dakota. The find indicates that indirectly at least, the Pliauchenia may be a link between the geologic forms on this continent, and the present day Asiatic camel. The fragments show three pre-molars in both upper and lower jaws, and the leg bones are the same type as the camel of today.

These fossils indicate that the camel studied was somewhat larger than the llama of South America, which is also a true member of the camel family.

STATE CHAMBER WRITES RELIEF WORK PROGRAM

The directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce meeting in San Francisco last week adopted a six point program to be placed before the governor and other officials recommending that unemployment relief be immediately returned to the counties with local personnel and standards.

Samuel Haskins, chairman of the State Chamber of Commerce Special Relief Committee, in recommending the program stated that it was adopted by the committee following months of study and conferences with county supervisors and relief officials.

The twenty two directors present from all parts of the state authorized immediate appointment of a new Klamath River Study Committee to be composed of outstanding specialists in biology, mining and other lines to act as a neutral agency to solve controversial problems between miners and sportsmen in the Klamath river area.

The chamber also authorized turning over to the California Medical Association full management of its recently established California Medical Corps, composed of 285 physicians who give their services for first aid in forest fire emergencies.

Mr. Hubert Walker, Chairman of the Highway Committee, reported that the State Railroad Commission has adopted recommendations of the State Chamber and is now closing a number of unnecessary and dangerous grade crossings, including one between San Carlos and Belmont where a recent death occurred.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Acting with the full approval of its Special Relief Committee, the Board of Directors of the State Chamber of Commerce today recommended a six-point program calling for the immediate return of unemployment relief to the counties with locally selected personnel and locally established standards. The program will be placed before the governor and other state officials immediately.

The program was recommended by Mr. Samuel Haskins of Los Angeles, chairman of the Chamber's Special Relief Committee. He said it was adopted following months of study, and a special meeting yesterday when county supervisors and relief officials conferred with the committee

The State Chamber's plan follows.

1. That the administration of unemployment relief be returned at the earliest possible moment to the counties.

2. That such grants-in-aid as may be made by the state should ultimately apply to unemployment relief and indigent relief alike and that no distinction between these two classes of relief cases should be attempted; recognized that under present legislation the $2,000,000 appropriated by the state must be spent entirely for unemployment relief and that the distinction between employables and unemployables will have to be maintained during the remainder of this biennium unless special legislation is enacted in the meantime.

3. That the counties pay the entire cost of local administrative activities, such as auditing.

4. That the state's responsibilities in connection with the relief program be transferred from SRA to other existing state agencies.

5. That the state's responsibilities be limited to auditing and standards of relief be established by the counties.

6. That the local pedsonnel be selected entirely by the counties and standards of personnel be established by the counties.

RECOVERS FROM MONITOR INJURY

Elmer Peterson, who received a bad back injury several weeks ago when he slipped and fell under a monitor at Relief Hill, was able to leave Jones Memorial hospital Sunday and was down town on crutches today. He is still under the doctors care. The young man had been working a half hour when he slipped under the seven inch monitor, which was throwing water about 250 feet and pulled it down upon himself. While the machine is not so heavy the terrific force of water bore down tearing ligaments loose in his back and legs. A little depression possibly saved him from a broken back.

Personal

Mr. George Gibson, who is mining at Cherokee and Badger Hill north of Nevada City spent last week end at his home in this city. In a nice lot of nuggets he had mined, were one or two ounces, and another beauty valued at over $6.

Mr. A. M. Holmes, member of the Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers, motored to Sonora Wednesday to inspect the new funeral home of Terzich and Bigelow. Mrs. Holmes accompanied her husband.

Mrs. B. W. Hummelt, who has been quite ill for the last two weeks is quite improved, which will be good news to her many friends.

Mr. Lacy Jones, of this city caught the limit of fine trout in Scotts Flat dam east of Nevada City Ma first.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Emlay of San Francisco came to Nevada City for the week end and visited at the home of Mrs. Emlay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Calanan. They also came in honor of the 82 birthday of her grandmother, Mrs. E. Kornhammer, and returned home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ronchi of Folsom spent Sunday in Nevada City. Mrs. Ronchi's birthday occurred on Sunday and she enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Emily Kornhammer, revered pioneer, whose birthday is being celebrated today.

WATER FOR CEMETERIES IN CAMPTONVILLE

CAMPTONVILLE, May 4.—For the first time in many years water flowed in the local cemeteries. The large 10,000 storage tank of the local government plant borders the I. O. O. F. cemetery with the overflow handy, and through the kindness of Forest Ranger Frank W. Meggers and in consideration of the right of way, a stand pipe has been installed in the Masonic cemetery with access from the public cemetery. People now taking flowers to the various cemeteries in memory of their loved ones may obtain water there without lugging pails and buckets a considerable distance. Water was piped into the cemeteries from the Camptonville water mains, but when the present owners bought out the Calvin interests such service was discontinued.

FORMER RESIDENT IS VISITOR

Richard Chapel, native of Gold Flat, who left this section 26 years ago, is visiting former friends in Nevada City today. He has been living in Brandon, Oregon, where he has been in the employ of the city. Mr. Chapel will spend the summer on the old homestead on Gold Flat and states he inteids to build a log cabin on the property. Mr. Brandon's sister is Mrs. Janie Partridge of the Partridge Hotel in Grass Valley.

PILOT WHO CRASHED 14 YEARS AGO, STILL FLIES

Some fourteen years ago, a U. S. pilot, crashed out in the vicinity of Blue Tent. He was badly injured, and during his stay in the hospital at Grass Valley, Phil Scadden, then postmaster, showed him many courtesies and gave him much assistance, for which Scadden received a letter of appreciation from the Postal authorities.

Recovered from his injuries Hu kins resumed his post as a pilot, and yesterday the newspapers of the country recounted his latest exploit as an aviator. He flew the "blind" robot plane with which experiments in radio beams are being conducted.
